Message from the Chair

As we reflect on 2025, I am immensely grateful for the generosity, dedication and compassion of everyone who makes the work of Humanity First UK possible. Together, we have continued to support vulnerable communities, respond to humanitarian emergencies and help people build better futures.

Our response in Gaza remained a major focus of our work during the year. Alongside providing essential support, including clean drinking water, we expanded our work in sanitation and education, helping children continue learning in extremely difficult circumstances. Our support from UNICEF was an important development, strengthening our ability to reach vulnerable communities. Across Africa, the Middle East and the UK, our teams also continued delivering programmes in healthcare, education, food security, clean water, disaster relief and community care.

Our achievements reflect the commitment of our volunteers, with 1,698 volunteers across 13 countries contributing more than 150,000 hours during 2025. Their dedication is central to our ability to deliver humanitarian support. I would also like to thank our donors, partners, staff and fellow trustees, whose continued support makes this work possible.

Alongside delivering our programmes, we have taken important steps to strengthen Humanity First UK for the longer term. The purchase of our UK property represents an investment in our operational capacity, while the establishment of HFUK Giving Ltd provides a dedicated structure for merchandise sales and certain fundraising activities.

Looking ahead, our strategy must focus on three key priorities. First, to strengthen the impact and sustainability of our programmes, ensuring that resources are directed towards areas of greatest need. Second, to diversify and grow our funding, developing new partnerships and pursuing external and institutional funding opportunities. Third, to strengthen our organisational capacity and governance, so that we can manage growth responsibly and remain accountable to our donors and beneficiaries.

In 2026, we aim to build on our work in Gaza, develop our partnerships and continue improving the way we plan, deliver and monitor our activities.

I am confident that, by working together and remaining true to our values, Humanity First UK can continue to respond to urgent humanitarian needs while building a stronger foundation for the future. Thank you to everyone who has contributed to our work throughout the year.

Dr Aziz Ahmad Hafiz
Chairman, Humanity First UK

Financial position

We remain extremely grateful to all our donors and supporters for their continued generosity throughout the year. The trustees are committed to ensuring that all income is used efficiently, effectively and responsibly in furtherance of the charity's objects.

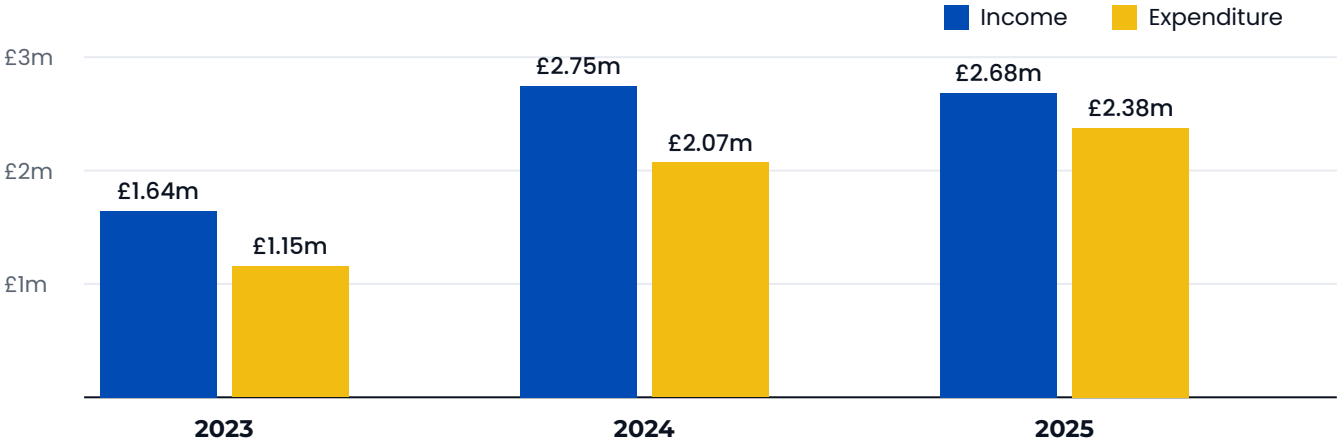

Total income for the year was £2.68 million (2024: £2.75 million), a broadly consistent level of activity year-on-year notwithstanding the absence of the exceptional restricted income received in 2024. Within this, the charity was pleased to secure a new UNICEF-funded partnership during the year, delivered substantially through in-kind assistance, which further diversifies our income base and is expected to continue into 2026. Unrestricted income also continued to grow, reflecting sustained donor confidence and the charity's broadening supporter base.

Total expenditure increased to £2.38 million (2024: £2.07 million), driven by the continued scale of our emergency relief and international development programmes, most notably our response in Gaza and ongoing work across Africa and the Middle East. The trustees have maintained disciplined control over the charity's running and administrative costs throughout this period of programme growth.

The year closed with a net surplus of £305,569 (2024: £675,842), comprising an unrestricted surplus of £156,732 (2024: £269,044) and a restricted fund surplus of £148,837 (2024: £406,798), bringing total funds carried forward to £1,846,076 (2024: £1,540,507).

The trustees also took steps during the year to strengthen the charity's operational foundations. A wholly owned trading subsidiary, HFUK Giving Ltd, was established to carry out the charity's merchandise sales and certain fundraising activities, with profits expected to be passed to the charity by Gift Aid (see note 13). The trustees also continued to invest in the charity's UK infrastructure to support the organisation's long-term growth and resilience.

Our charitable activities and marketing campaigns continue to raise the profile of our work, which the trustees expect to have a positive impact on future income.

Investment policy and objectives

The charity has no long-term investments, aside from its holding in HFUK Giving Ltd, a wholly owned trading subsidiary established during the year (see note 13). The trustees are empowered by the memorandum and articles of association to decide on the course of action that they consider appropriate to further the charity's objects.

Reserves policy

The charity aims to maintain sufficient unrestricted reserves to provide financial stability and resilience, while ensuring that funds are used effectively in furtherance of its charitable objectives.

The trustees have determined that an appropriate level of reserves is equivalent to approximately six months of fixed expenditure, together with an appropriate provision to enable the charity to respond promptly to humanitarian emergencies and disasters.

At 31 December 2025, unrestricted funds were £890,909 (2024: £713,965). The trustees have reviewed the level of reserves held at the year end and are satisfied that current reserves are in line with the charity's reserves policy and provide an appropriate level of financial resilience, taking into account the charity's ongoing commitments, operating costs and the need to respond rapidly to humanitarian emergencies.

The trustees will continue to review the level of reserves regularly in light of the charity's activities, financial position and future plans.

Financial and risk management

The trustees recognise that the charity operates in a range of environments which can present financial, operational and delivery risks. The trustees maintain a risk management approach which includes periodic review of the principal risks facing the charity, appropriate policies and procedures, and ongoing monitoring of activities and financial performance.

The principal risks identified by the trustees and the measures in place to manage them include:

Principal risk	Measures in place
1. Operating in high-risk and conflict-affected environments The charity operates in countries where conflict, political instability, natural disasters and restrictions on access can affect programme delivery and increase financial and operational risks.	Due diligence on implementing partners and suppliers, appropriate anti-terrorism and sanctions checks, ongoing monitoring of local conditions and close working with in-country teams and partners.
2. Financial sustainability and fluctuations in income Changes in economic conditions, donor income and the level of humanitarian need may affect the charity's income and the cost of delivering its programmes.	Regular monitoring of income and expenditure against budget, maintaining appropriate reserves and adapting programme expenditure where necessary.
3. Financial controls and overseas programme delivery The delivery of programmes through overseas offices and partner organisations creates a risk that funds may not always be used or accounted for as intended.	Established financial controls, approval procedures, monitoring of programme expenditure, supporting documentation requirements and periodic review of overseas activities.
4. Safeguarding and duty of care The charity works with vulnerable individuals and communities and recognises its responsibility to safeguard beneficiaries, volunteers and others involved in its activities.	Safeguarding policies and procedures, appropriate reporting arrangements and awareness of safeguarding responsibilities across the organisation.

The trustees regularly review the charity's principal risks and are satisfied that appropriate systems and controls are in place to manage these risks to an acceptable level.

Future plans

The charity will continue to respond to the growing demand for humanitarian assistance in the UK and overseas. During 2026, we plan to expand our operations in Gaza, working with local and international partners to increase the support we can provide to affected communities.

With increasing demand and donor fatigue affecting some areas of disaster relief, we will continue to diversify our sources of funding. This will include applying for external and institutional funding, developing new partnerships and exploring other fundraising opportunities.

Following the establishment of HFUK Giving Ltd, we will also develop our merchandise activities through the trading subsidiary, ensuring these activities are managed within an appropriate and compliant structure.

The charity will continue to strengthen its operations and diversify its funding so that it can respond to increasing needs while remaining financially sustainable.

Structure, governance and management

Governing document

The Charity is constituted as a company limited by guarantee and is therefore governed by its Memorandum and Articles of Association.

Induction and training of new trustees

New trustees are appointed in accordance with its Articles of Association. The charity provides opportunities for training of all trustees. The Charity is organised so that the trustees meet regularly to oversee its affairs. The trustees have delegated the management of day-to-day affairs to the chairman.

Employment policy

The Charity believes in the philosophy of an equal opportunities' employer. The charity employs 3 part-time staff members, with all other roles, including the entire senior management team, fulfilled by volunteers. The senior executives dedicate their time and professional expertise without any financial remuneration. The monetary value of volunteers' time is not recognised as income in the accounts.

Humanity First UK also benefits from the support of hundreds of devoted volunteers. 1698 volunteers were involved in day to day running of the operations of the charity in 13 countries.

The trustees appreciate this and wish to thank everyone involved who have given their valuable time and effort in advancing the Charity's objectives.

Events since the end of the year

Information relating to events since the end of the year is given in the notes to the financial statements.

Statement of Trustees' Responsibilities

The trustees (who are also the directors of Humanity First UK for the purposes of company law) are responsible for preparing the Report of the Trustees and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

Company law requires the trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year. Under that law, the trustees have elected to prepare the financial statements in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice (United Kingdom Accounting Standards and applicable law).

Under company law the trustees must not approve the financial statements unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charitable company and of the incoming resources and application of resources, including the income and expenditure, of the charitable company for that period. In preparing those financial statements, the trustees are required to

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP;
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- state whether applicable accounting standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements;
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charitable company will continue in business.

The trustees are responsible for keeping proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charitable company and to enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charitable company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

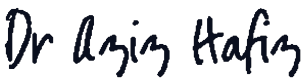

In so far as the trustees are aware:

- there is no relevant audit information of which the charitable company's auditors are unaware; and
- the trustees have taken all steps that they ought to have taken to make themselves aware of any relevant audit information and to establish that the auditors are aware of that information.

Auditors

The auditors, Grant Harrod Lerman Davis LLP, will be proposed for re-appointment at the forthcoming Annual General Meeting.

Report of the trustees, incorporating a strategic report, approved by order of the board of trustees, as the company directors, on 22 September 2026 and signed on the board's behalf by:

Aziz Ahmad Hafiz, Trustee

Report of the Independent Auditors to the Members of Humanity First UK

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Humanity First UK (the 'charitable company') for the year ended 31 December 2025 which comprise the Statement of Financial Activities, the Balance Sheet, the Cash Flow Statement and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

In our opinion the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the charitable company's affairs as at 31 December 2025 and of its incoming resources and application of resources, including its income and expenditure, for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice; and
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the charitable company in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the FRC's Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Conclusions relating to going concern

In auditing the financial statements, we have concluded that the trustees' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statements is appropriate.

Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the charitable company's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least twelve months from when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the trustees with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

Other information

The trustees are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Annual Report, other than the financial statements and our Report of the Independent Auditors thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether this gives rise to a material misstatement in the financial statements themselves. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Opinions on other matters prescribed by the Companies Act 2006

In our opinion, based on the work undertaken in the course of the audit:

- the information given in the Report of the Trustees for the financial year for which the financial statements are prepared is consistent with the financial statements; and
- the Report of the Trustees has been prepared in accordance with applicable legal requirements.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

In the light of the knowledge and understanding of the charitable company and its environment obtained in the course of the audit, we have not identified material misstatements in the Report of the Trustees.

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters where the Companies Act 2006 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- adequate accounting records have not been kept or returns adequate for our audit have not been received from branches not visited by us; or
- the financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns; or
- certain disclosures of trustees' remuneration specified by law are not made; or
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit.

Responsibilities of trustees

As explained more fully in the Statement of Trustees' Responsibilities, the trustees (who are also the directors of the charitable company for the purposes of company law) are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the trustees determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the trustees are responsible for assessing the charitable company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the trustees either intend to liquidate the charitable company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue a Report of the Independent Auditors that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

The extent to which our procedures are capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud is detailed below:

To identify risks of material misstatement due to fraud ("fraud risks") we assessed events or conditions that could indicate an incentive or pressure to commit fraud or provide an opportunity to commit fraud. Our risk assessment procedures included:

- Enquiring of trustees and inspection of policy documentation as to the Charity's high-level policies and procedures to prevent and detect fraud, as well as whether they have knowledge of any actual, suspected or alleged fraud.
- Reading Board minutes.
- Using analytical procedures to identify any unusual or unexpected relationships.

We communicated identified fraud risks throughout the audit team and remained alert to any indications of fraud throughout the audit.

As required by auditing standards, we perform procedures to address the risk of management override of controls, in particular the risk that management may be in a position to make inappropriate accounting entries. On this audit we do not believe there is a fraud risk related to revenue recognition because the Charity's revenue transactions are simple and low value with few, if any, judgmental aspects to revenue recognition. We are not aware of any incentives or pressures linked to revenue recognition.

We did not identify any additional fraud risks.

In determining the audit procedures, we took into account the results of our evaluation and testing of the operating effectiveness of fraud risk management controls.

We also performed procedures including identifying journal entries and other adjustments to test based on risk criteria and comparing the identified entries to supporting documentation. These included those posted to unusual accounts.

Identifying and responding to risks of material misstatement due to non-compliance with laws and regulations

We identified areas of laws and regulations that could reasonably be expected to have a material effect on the financial statements from our general commercial and sector experience, and through discussion with the directors and other management (as required by auditing standards), and discussed with the directors and other management the policies and procedures regarding compliance with laws and regulations.

We communicated identified laws and regulations throughout our team and remained alert to any indications of non-compliance throughout the audit.

Context of the ability of the audit to detect fraud or breaches of law or regulation

Owing to the inherent limitations of an audit, there is an unavoidable risk that we may not have detected some material misstatements in the financial statements, even though we have properly planned and performed our audit in accordance with auditing standards. For example, the further removed non-compliance with laws and regulations is from the events and transactions reflected in the financial statements, the less likely the inherently limited procedures required by auditing standards would identify it.

In addition, as with any audit, there remained a higher risk of non-detection of fraud, as these may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal controls. Our audit procedures are designed to detect material misstatement. We are not responsible for preventing non-compliance or fraud and cannot be expected to detect non-compliance with all laws and regulations.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the Financial Reporting Council's website at www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities. This description forms part of our Report of the Independent Auditors.

Use of our report

This report is made solely to the charitable company's members, as a body, in accordance with Chapter 3 of Part 16 of the Companies Act 2006. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the charitable company's members those matters we are required to state to them in an auditors' report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the charitable company and the charitable company's members as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the year ended 31 December 2025

1. Accounting policies

Basis of preparing the financial statements

The financial statements of the charitable company, which is a public benefit entity under FRS 102, have been prepared in accordance with the Charities SORP (FRS 102) 'Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (effective 1 January 2019)', Financial Reporting Standard 102 'The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland' and the Companies Act 2006. The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention, with the exception of investments which are included at market value.

Going concern

The financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis. The Trustees have reviewed and considered relevant information in making their assessment, in particular the expected fixed costs due to be paid by the entity over a period of time, and compared it to the general unrestricted funds held by the entity. The trustees have concluded that they can continue to adopt the going concern basis in preparing the annual report and accounts.

Income

All income is recognised in the Statement of Financial Activities once the charity has entitlement to the funds, it is probable that the income will be received and the amount can be measured reliably.

Expenditure

Liabilities are recognised as expenditure as soon as there is a legal or constructive obligation committing the charity to that expenditure, it is probable that a transfer of economic benefits will be required in settlement and the amount of the obligation can be measured reliably. Expenditure is accounted for on an accruals basis and has been classified under headings that aggregate all cost related to the category. Where costs cannot be directly attributed to particular headings they have been allocated to activities on a basis consistent with the use of resources.

Tangible fixed assets

Depreciation is provided at the following annual rates in order to write off each asset over its estimated useful life.

- Freehold property: 2% straight line
- Plant and machinery: 20% on cost
- Motor vehicles: 20% on cost
- Computer equipment: 33% on cost

Stocks

Stocks are valued at the lower of cost and net realisable value, after making due allowance for obsolete and slow moving items.

Taxation

The charity is exempt from corporation tax on its charitable activities.

Fund accounting

Unrestricted funds can be used in accordance with the charitable objectives at the discretion of the trustees.

Restricted funds can only be used for particular restricted purposes within the objects of the charity. Restrictions arise when specified by the donor or when funds are raised for particular restricted purposes.

Further explanation of the nature and purpose of each fund is included in the notes to the financial statements.

Pension costs and other post-retirement benefits

The charitable company operates a defined contribution pension scheme. Contributions payable to the charitable company's pension scheme are charged to the Statement of Financial Activities in the period to which they relate.

Financial instruments

The Charity only has financial assets and financial liabilities of a kind that qualify as basic financial instruments. Basic financial instruments are initially recognised at transaction value and subsequently measured at their settlement value with the exception of bank loans which are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.
